

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICAL SCIENCE
PANJAB UNIVERSITY, CHANDIGARH – 160 014 (INDIA)

05.11.2022

Report

The Department of Political Science organized a lecture on 05th November 2022 (Saturday) at 02:30 pm in the Conference Hall of the Department by Prof. T.P. Singh, Department of Political Science, Banaras Hindu University, Varanasi delivered the lecture on “Indian Foreign Policy: Determinants. Foreign policy of a country is determined by various internal and external factors. However the most important determinant of foreign policy of a country is capability of a country. Capability again has been defined in terms of power. Power has both tangible and intangible ingredients, its soft and hard power aspect.

The proposed talk looked into the different questions while discussing the determinants of Indian foreign policy, which is a constantly evolving and changing phenomenon, in the constantly evolving and changing world. The issues like Identification of the major determinants of Indian Foreign Policy, Agent-Structure Debate in India's Foreign Policy, Major Challenges of India's Foreign Policy, India as an Emerging Power, India a regional power or global power, Future direction of India's foreign policy are the major thrust of the talk.

The formal lecture was attended by the faculty and students of the department including the researchers.

